

No Pass, Timids

Madison was shy, short, very soft-spoken, slight.
Shrimp inconsequential proving an intellectual and political giant. Never was easy I'd guess.

So, step it up! You're required. Open your placid mouth. Because you owe us. When baton is handed off, you can grab as well as anyone.

Better! Why not today? We await, and don't care if you stumble. Or stutter. Or mumble. Or fear.

We'll lean forward to hear!